

The Religious Studies Department
and the King School of Law Present:

Transnational Reproduction: The Bioethics of Crossing Borders for Fertility Services

a lecture by Daisy Deomampo, Fordham University

Thursday, April 18th, 2019
Reception at 5PM Talk at 6PM
King School of Law, Room 1001

Daisy Deomampo is Assistant Professor of Anthropology at Fordham University. She is a cultural and medical anthropologist whose research interests encompass science and technology studies, critical race studies, reproductive health and politics, and bioethics and social justice. Her book, Transnational Reproduction: Race, Kinship, and Commercial Surrogacy in India (NYU Press, 2016), is the first to foreground issues of race and racialization in the context of transnational surrogacy in India.

Inquiries can be sent to Meaghan O'Keefe at mmokeefe@ucdavis.edu