

Feminist Visions

9th Annual Feminist Theory + Research DE Symposium
Friday, May 17, 2019 - Hart Hall 3201

Call for graduate papers, panels, and presentations

Submissions due by Monday, April 15

Click here for submissions

Queries: jkolber@ucdavis.edu

In what ways do we envision feminist futures and histories? How does feminist theory and research provide a lens to understand and question hegemonies and dispossessions? Presenters will reckon with issues of politics, activism, protest, justice, transnational organizing, post/colonialism, resistance, and radical thought through feminist lenses.

This year's 9th annual Feminist Theory and Research (FTR) Graduate Symposium DE invites graduate student papers, panels, multi-media and/or creative presentations that investigate what radical and diverse interventions can mean in feminist theorizing, methods, projects, practice and activism.