

*Geography Graduate Group
Spring Seminar Series*

DR. JADE SASSER

The Return of Population
Activism: Understanding
Sexual Stewardship in the
New Millennium

WED., JUNE 5, 2019
4:10-5:30 PM
OLSON HALL 205

This talk focuses on youth advocacy at the intersections of population growth and climate change. In it, Dr. Sasser explores how neo-Malthusian approaches are being reframed through the language of social justice, and investigate the historical and current ways advocates link science and politics to produce global population policies.

POPULATION CONTROL

AND WOMEN'S RIGHTS

IN THE ERA OF

CLIMATE CHANGE

ON INTERSECTIONAL
GROWTH